

In Case anything is to happen to me I want these following songs to be played at my wake in the order they are listed. Also I want a CD burned with these songs on it and given to everyone who attends. It's important to me that this is carried out. It is my last and final wish. Also I do Not want this Wake to be about Mourning I want it to be a Celebration about living a life as best as I could. Have fun, get drunk and keep your heads up. Read the below statement at my wake.

These songs all have some kind of special meaning to me and kind of represent all of the different people in my life. Each one being a certain time and or person. Some will know their song others won't. Just Listen and Interpret what you will.

I will always love and cherish all of the time I was given on this earth and am thankful for this life and everyone in it. I have learned so much from all of the good times as well as the bad times. If I could leave you with any words of wisdom it would be two things that I have ALWAYS tried to live my life by. And that is to make sure you always put yourself in the position of anyone you ever have contact with. You will never truly know a man or woman until you try to see things from their perspective. And secondly never pass judgment or put anger on someone to quickly or harshly. Because I guarantee you that person is fighting a battle that you know nothing about. Also avoid the self checkout lines at supermarkets that dumb robot cashier will always end up yelling at you about something and it'll just stress you out.

To my family I love you guys. You were always my life line and safe port in every storm during my life. Thank you for everything! To my friends I love you, and if you are standing there wondering how well you really knew me, and if we were even friends at all. Just remember the fact that you came to this and are standing here right now listening, and that should tell you we are! and forever will be.

You guys rock and I'll Miss ya. Looks like I am out of jokes for once in my life but stay strong guys it only gets better.

Alicia I will always love you, Promise that you will forget this mess of my life and move on to do whatever it is in life that you want.

I'll See ya when I see Ya

1. Oasis- Champagne supernova
2. The Beatles- Let it Be
3. The Rolling Stones- Ruby Tuesday
4. Frank Sinatra- Summer Wind
5. Coldplay- Sparks
6. Oasis- Stop Crying Your Heart Out
7. Alice In Chains- Rooster
8. Zac Brown Band- Free
9. Bob Dylan- Times They are A Changing
10. James Taylor- Fire and Rain
11. The Rolling Stones- Wild Horses
12. Beach Boys- Don't Worry Baby
13. The Beatles- Here Comes The Sun
14. Journey- Don't Stop Believing